

M'KINLEY THEIR FAVORITE
OHIO REPUBLICAN CLUBS NAME HIM
FOR PRESIDENT.

THE GOVERNOR DENOUNCES THE TARIFF-TINKERING QUEEN-RESTORING POLICY OF THE DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION, AND SHOWS THE NECESSITY OF A RADICAL CHANGE.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 13.—Governor McKinley was nominated over and over again in the convention of Republican Clubs of Ohio here to-day for President of the United States, and when he appeared, in response to an invitation, and addressed the club briefly, the delegates cheered him wildly. This evening at the Lincoln banquet, given by the League of Clubs, he responded to the toast "Our Country." He spoke as follows:

The present condition of the country is neither cheerful nor attractive. The juries in our property is apparent, and has given occasion as well as opportunity for reflection. The last year has been one of compulsory education. The elections of 1892 did not mean free trade, or, indeed, that they meant the free coinage of silver. The silver standard in power at Washington would reject the free trade doctrine, as they have already done, and they might emphasize their want of good faith to party politics, and the repeal of the Sherman law, which did not bring the relief promised by President Cleveland.

A COSTLY BUT USEFUL LESSON.

The people are just now feeling politics. We are attending upon the school of experience; and, while the scholarship is free, the expense is enormous, nor is there a business man or workman who would not, if he had the power to do it, defeat the Wilson bill and stop at once all present agitation of the tariff. This sentiment is not confined to Ohio or the East, but extends to the South and West, Louisiana and Tennessee, Alabama, West Virginia, and Kentucky, and quite possibly to the West, Western or Pacific States.

As the Wilson bill stands, the Republicans are to be blamed for its adoption, and inasmuch as Mr. Lodge says that the hope of the country is in the Republican party, because with the Democratic Party its strength is in the lower wards of the great cities and in the South, a combination out of which we cannot get sound legislation and good administration.

is distinct, and disputing over a place in the respective parties of a political graveyard is not a business which invites my activity.

N. B. Kindly forward this to the Committee on Contested Seats.

THE OPPORTUNITY OF REPUBLICANISM.
HENRY CABOT LODGE TELLS WHY THE PEOPLE WILL RETURN TO THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

"Harper's Weekly" will publish on February 14 an article by Henry Cabot Lodge on "The Opportunity of the Republican Party," which, in a measure, supplements the recent unsigned article in the same paper on "The Failure of the Democratic Party." Mr. Lodge maintains that the Democrats of the country, like the Republicans, saved the Union and abolished slavery, he says, and continued in power for thirty years, during which period all the democratic parts of that party were absorbed, and came upon the ruling party until finally all these forces centred largely in a single question, the "Tariff." By a skilful appeal to the masses, he believes that the "Tariff" was ready for the employed. Under such conditions the Republicans were driven from power and the Democrats assumed the lead.

Mr. Lodge goes on to say that the Wilson bill is neither free trade nor protection; embodies no theory, and is without symmetry and principle, is not a tariff for revenue, but a tax of 10 per cent. on imports. In conclusion Mr. Lodge says that the hope of the country is in the Republican party, because it is the party of the plain people, the party which, with the Democratic Party, has its strength in the lower wards of the great cities and in the South, a combination out of which we cannot get sound legislation and good administration.

HARLEM REPUBLICANS MEET.
THEY APPROVE THE PLAN OF THE COMMITTEE OF THIRTY AND OPPOSE THE DESTRU-CTION OF THE CITY HALL.

A well-attended meeting of the Harlem Republican Club was held in its commodious clubhouse, Nos. 145 and 147 West, One-hundred-and-twenty-fifth-st., last evening. President Henry C. Robinson presided, and Walter Watkins was secretary.

William Brookfield, chairman of the Republican State Committee, was expected to address the meeting, but he sent a letter saying that he was unable to be present, that the work of reorganization under the plan of the Committee of Thirty was going on rapidly, and asking the club to endorse the plan. A letter from Dr. Lemuel E. Quigg, chairman of the Committee of Thirty, was read, and the resolution was adopted.

After the meeting, the splendid Republican victory in the XIVth Congress District, which was applauded, President Robinson said: "Mr. Quigg is a very bright young man, and I am glad to see that he has selected another round of applause and many critics."

A memorial to the Legislature by the Society of the Sons of the Revolution, calling for legislative action for the reconstruction of the City Hall, was received from that society, with a request that the club adopt a resolution approving it. William Brookfield, president of the club, and Mr. Johnson, chairman of the Committee of Thirty, voted in favor of the resolution, and it was adopted.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect? They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.

There is an appearance of the situation to-day, while Congress is engaged in reducing the revenue, Cleveland's Administration, of the same political faith as Congress, is increasing the revenues by what it calls "temporary" taxes. Congress is pressuring the states to relieve their burdens by fastening upon them a bonded debt of $30,000,000. But what else could you expect?

They are pleased to reflect that they have had no more effect than though they had come from outside the United States. The people can ask for a hearing before the committee of Congress, and the Senate. First Committee, in the few days has announced that their views will not even be heard in its councils.